

About me

I'm a male thirty-five-year-old, the undergraduate of Szczecin Teachers' Training College in which classes were in English. I come from Szczecin, here I finished a "millennial" primary school and comprehensive school as well. A good comprehensive school, Szczecin LO no. 6. LO no. 13, now famous, was not renowned and didn't top the rankings then. As I'm 35, I remember things as Dolphin Oum, Jana of the jungle, Nu pogodi, Krtek or Bolek i Lolek. I used to be fond of the Turbo chewing gum, which later turned out to cause cancer and was taken off the shelves, and collected its racing car pics. Donald bubble gum was my favourite as well. And there was a Polish chewing gum, too, fruit, guess it was made by ZPC "Odra". It was tasty. My adventure with computers started with a part time ZX Spectrum+. In LO I had a C64+ and it was like heavy gaming, Mario Bros classic arcade in it. With the Commodore I had the Datasette recorder, but the 5,25" floppy drive too. Towards my matura (ca. GCSE) I switched to Amiga 1200, my first more advanced computer and I had i.a. De Luxe Paint 4.5 AGA and Lemmings running. I've had my PC for some time. Evidently, I take many pictures and follow IT news. I like 1980s music, not the ubiquitous banging noise that attacks you now. Recently, my MP4 helps reminding every bar of those great songs. Now I know why it's such a hot First Communion present with kids in Poland. When I was their age, though, the most you could get for your Communion was a bicycle. I got a wrist watch. Why, it's globalisation and consumerism today.

Have a nice day.
